The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the amendment to the specification filed 2/3/2005 is improper in that the new claim inserted has not been underlined. Also note that in the original patent, in the compound the line connecting CH₃ group at the 9-position is a straight line, while in the newly submitted compound said line is dotted.

Appropriate correction is required.

Applicant is also reminded that since the claims have been substantially amended, in accordance with 37 CFR 1.175(b)(1), a supplemental reissue oath/declaration under 37 CFR 1.175(b)(1) must be received before this reissue application can be allowed.

See MPEP § 1414.01.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification fails to describe what is meant by the term "non-hygroscopic". In the Abstract, the claimed compound is described as being non-hygroscopic. However, in the specification, in column 1, lines 60-65, the claimed compound is described as being less hygroscopic. Further, the data presented in FIG. 1 supports the claimed compound as being less hygroscopic. The term "non-hygroscopic" is being interpreted as a compound which does not absorb and retain moisture from air. However, the terminology "less hygroscopic" is being interpreted as reading on a compound which absorbs and retains some quantity of moisture from the air. Therefore, lacking written description of term "non-hygroscopic" in the specification, claims 1-7, directed to a non-hygroscopic ethanolate of azithromycin, fail to comply with the written description requirement.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-7 are directed to a "non-hygroscopic" compound. However, in the specification, the compound is defined as being less hygroscopic (column 1, lines 60-65). Further, Figure 1 shows an ethanolate crystal taking up water. Therefore, it is confusing whether the claimed compound is supposed to be non-hygroscopic or less hygroscopic.

Applicant's arguments filed September 11, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant contends that the Abstract describes the invention as "non-hygroscopic" and the specification describes the invention as "a new ethanolate of azithromycin that is less hygroscopic than azithromycin monohydrate". Therefore, applicant contends that it would be well understood that the term "non-hygroscopic" as meaning "less hygroscopic than azithromycin monohydrate". This argument has not been found persuasive since the specification fails to provide a definition of the term "non-hygroscopic". Since to a person of ordinary skill in the art the terms "nonhygroscopic" and "less hygroscopic" would not be understood as being equivalent, claims 1-7 are still seen to be unclear.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
